To the DAILY GAZETTEER.

Jan. 22, 1740.

HE more this empty Clamour against Places and Placemen is consider'd, the more senseless will it appear. It is represented as a dangerous Practice in this Government, to do that which all Governments, in all Ages and in all Countries, have ever done and ever will do; that is, to give Honours and Employments to their Friends and to their Enemies. What does that Miracle of a Politician in France do in this Respect? Does he give Places to the Constitutionists his Enemies, or to the Anti-Constitutionists his Friends? Does he promote the Followers of Chaulieu, or in any other in the Universe besides this, Persons whatever excluded from serving their Country as a Capacity, because they hold Employments in the Government? Is this Absurdity Part of our Constitution? Or when was it first introduced? We all know when, and for what Purpose; to distress Him who had deliver'd us from a Tyrant, and with a View to bring that Tyrant back upon us.

This Wonderful Care of the Publick was never thought of in all the Righteous Reigns of the Stuarts; it would be instantly annull'd if any of that Breed, or extended Breed, were to come here again.

This is, perhaps, the wickedest Insinuation that has been propagated in such a Constitution as our's: The King is evidently, by all the Law of the Land, the Head of this Government: Now to suppose that he who serves Him are Enemies to the People, is to make Eternal Jealousies, where there ought to be perfect Harmony: It is plainly setting the King and the Body at Variance, than which nothing is more fatal either to the one or the other.

If we consider that Places, as Things stand with us, are and must be given to Persons of the greatest Influence, it will appear, that these Places have little or no Influence at all. When the Common Place-men are told, that the House of Commons is fill'd with Two Hundred Thousand Pounds a Year from Government, they are mightily alarmed, and say that these Men will certainly do every thing that can be required of them; and they are taught to say as if those Members had not a Shilling in the World but this Two Hundred Thousand Pounds a Year to subsist on; whereas the contrary is so far from being true, that these Gentlemen's own proper Estates are of greater Value than all the King's Civil List is to them, under the precarious Tenure of a Minister's Power and Pleasure. Nay, so inconsistent is this Sum of Two Hundred Thousand Pounds, when rightly attended to (that is, to what it is) that I am fully persuaded the Two Hundred Persons in Question are not, at the Year's End, Fifty Thousand Pounds, nay, I verily believe, Fifty Pounds the richer for it.

The Matter has not been set in its true Light. I venture to affirm, that this Two Hundred Thousand Pounds a Year, does not over-pay the Charge of these Gentlemen's Attendance upon the Publick Service. I know pretty well what I say: between a Gentleman's being upon his Estate, and his Family in the Country, and living in Town all his Time, the Difference is above a Thousand Pounds a Year, and if we suppose Two Hundred Pounds in this Case, what becomes of this mighty

That the Difference above-mentioned is no less than I have computed it at, any one will easily conclude, who knows what a House in Town, Coaches, Horses, and Servants in Town, and House-keeping in the Country costs more than in the Country. To which add Birth-day Suits for the Representative, his Lady, and perhaps others; add Plays, add Opera's, add Balls, and what can you imagine the Esquire has laid up out of his Thousand Pounds a Year? Certainly not one Groat.

Is not this Two Hundred Thousand Pounds a

Year then a pretty Bribbe to influence Two Hundred Persons to sacrifice their Country, themselves, and their Families, to a Court? And what a blessed Bargain would they have of it!

Not that I approve of this Manner of Living: I wish they liv'd after another Manner, for I think it is the Duty of every one that serves his Prince and his Country, to get what he can fairly for the Benefit of his own Family.

I know there are Persons who advance wild Notions about Patriotism and Disinterestedness, and that a Man ought not to take any Thing of the Government, that pretends to serve his Country in Parliament; but these Notions are idle Whimsies, and as senseless in Politics as in Religion.

One of the worst Enemies Christianity ever had (a Reproach to this Country) has attempted to undermine the Christian Religion, by the same Reasoning as these Persons would subvert the Government: He explodes the Christian Scheme as idiotical, and represents every Man as no better than a Knave at Bottom, that serves God out of Hopes of any Reward. This is the very Doctrine that is now advanced as to serving the King. But we know who was the Author of it: We know who first said, Does such an one serve God for Nothings?

I beg Pardon for troubling you twice on the same Subject: And am,

SIR, &c.

Yesterday arrived the Mails due from Holland, France and Flanders.

Rome, Jan. 9. N. S.

THE Chevalier de St. George having lately received two Couriers from Madrid, communicated the Dispatches they brought to the Cardinal Ministers, who thought they deserved a particular Regard, and upon this Occasion several of the Cardinals had a secret Conference at his House. Orders are since given to prepare an Equipage for the Chevalier's eldest Son, from whence 'tis imagin'd, that he is going upon some Journey. One of the Expresses from Madrid brought Advice, that the (late) Duke of Ormond was sent for to the Court of Spain, to have some Employment. For these three Days past there has been a great Stir at the Chevalier's Palace.

Avignon, Jan. 8. N. S. The King of Spain has sent a most obliging Letter to the (late) Duke of Ormond, wherein he gives him to understand, that 'tis having a special Esteem for him, and thinking his Advice necessary at the present juncture, he shall be glad to see him at Madrid with all Speed, &c. Though the Duke chose this City with a View of ending his Days in it; yet he has too great a Sense of the Honour done him by his Catholick Majesty, to hesitate at his Orders, and therefore is preparing to set out forthwith for Madrid in Company with some Scots and Irish Lords that are now here. The Courier that came to him from Madrid proceeded immediately for Rome.

Petersburg, Jan. 2. N. S. We hear from Constantinople, that tho' the Grand Signior has entirely approved of the Grand Vizier's Conduct and given him a gracious Reception, yet the Populace are dissatisfied with him not a little for having neglected to succour Moldavia; and that upon the Report that the Russians had taken Bender, the Populace assembled on the 10th of November, demanded the Grand Vizier's Head, and even threaten'd the Grand Signior; but the Insurrection was soon quieted.

surprising Manner, all internal as well as external Hemorrhages, i. e. it infallibly and quickly stops all dangerous Bleedings at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting Blood; also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids or Menes; bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds, &c. It keeps good for many Years, at Sea or on Shoar, at Home or Abroad, i. e. in all Climates, therefore must be universally Useful.

The Doctor not only obtained his Majesty's Letters Patent for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine; but also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting this Medicine from the Inspection of the Censors of the College of Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. Some of the Apothecaries prepare a Styptick from a Prescription of Helvetius, and use it in the Room of Dr. Eaton's; but whoever tries both, will soon be persuaded that Our's exceeds theirs in all Respects, in a most eminent Degree.

The Royal BEAUTIFYING FLUID.

SO exceedingly valued by Ladies

Quality and all who have used it, for its transcendent efficacy in Beautifying the Face, Neck, and Hands to most exquisite Perfection possible, is to be had only at Radford's Toyshop at the Rose and Crown against St. Clements Church-yard in the Strand.

It gives an inexpressible fine Air to the Features of the Face on the Spot, and a surprising Handfulness to the Neck and Hands, which it immediately makes exceedingly smooth, and delicately white.

Nothing in the World can sooner or more certainly away all disagreeable Redness, Spots, Pimples, Blisters, Rashes, Morpew, Worms in the Face, Marks of the Small-Pox, Sun-burn, or any other Discolouring, nor remove all Wrinkles so perfectly, for it quickly makes the Skin become so incomparably fine, clear, plump, soft, and beautifully fair, as cause Admiration in the Beholders.

It really gives a most engaging resplendent Brightness to the whole Countenance, and causes sparkling Life, Spirit, a fine Bloom to reign in every Feature, and yet is nothing but Paint, but far exceeds it, by its bringing the Skin, what of the Face, Neck, or Hands, and tho' brown, red, or to a natural, youthful Fairness, Smoothness, and most delicate Delicacy, which Paint only faintly imitates, without this ROYAL BEAUTIFYER prepared from the least Particle of Mercury, or any Thing Metaline, but is perfectly safe and may be given inwardly even to Children. It has a pleasant Scent, will not soil the finest Laces, and is agreeable to use.

But these its admirable Properties, by which it vastly exceeds any Thing whatever for the like Purpose, have caused many to imitate it under various other Names, before of such Impositions, the true ROYAL BEAUTIFYING FLUID, that has given such universal Satisfaction to the Ladies of Distinction, being only to be had at Mr. Radford's Toyshop above-mentioned at 3s. 6d. a Bottle with Directions and no where else in England.

These are to Certify whom it may concern

THAT the Two Medicines for Internal Use, which have been sold with so much efficacy for the Good of Mankind above Thirty Years last past the Cure of are removed from the Minors: where they have been sold the Author, so long, and are now sold only at Mr. Sandwell's Toyshop, the Sign of the Griffin, the Corner of New-Bury in the Poultry, at 5s. the Parcel, with printed Directions given with them.

These two Remedies need no other Recommendation: themselves will manifest in two or three Days using, having their admirable and even astonishing Success, gained the reputation they so justly deserve, both in City and Country after wearing Trusses for many Years to no Purpose.

For by the Blessing of God, they make a perfect Cure either on Old or Young, in a very little Time, and for a Charge, without any Pain to, or Confinement of the Patient: one Parcel is generally sufficient for a complete Cure, especially on a young Person.

Many Hundreds of all Ages and Sexes have been cured them, which occasioned this Publication, for the Good of Publick, that all such unhappy People may be delivered from the Charge and Slavery of always wearing Trusses.

The World might have had many Certificates of Cured Persons of all Ages, from Children of a few Months old grown Persons of 60 Years or upwards; but that they are naturally averse to let it be known, that they are such an Infirmity: Yet Mr. Sandwell can satisfy any Quirer of the Validity of what is here said, tho' he has had such large Knowledge, by reason of the short Time has sold 'em, as they come from whom the Medicines are good Reasons, removed.

No Letters received except Post paid.
